ALMA MATER

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,

Towering high above the land,

In our hearts your name we honor,

In our memory you will stand.

We give to you our devotion,

For truth and for wisdom taught,

And for thee, Fort Cherry High School,

We sing your praises high to the sky.

Hail to thee,

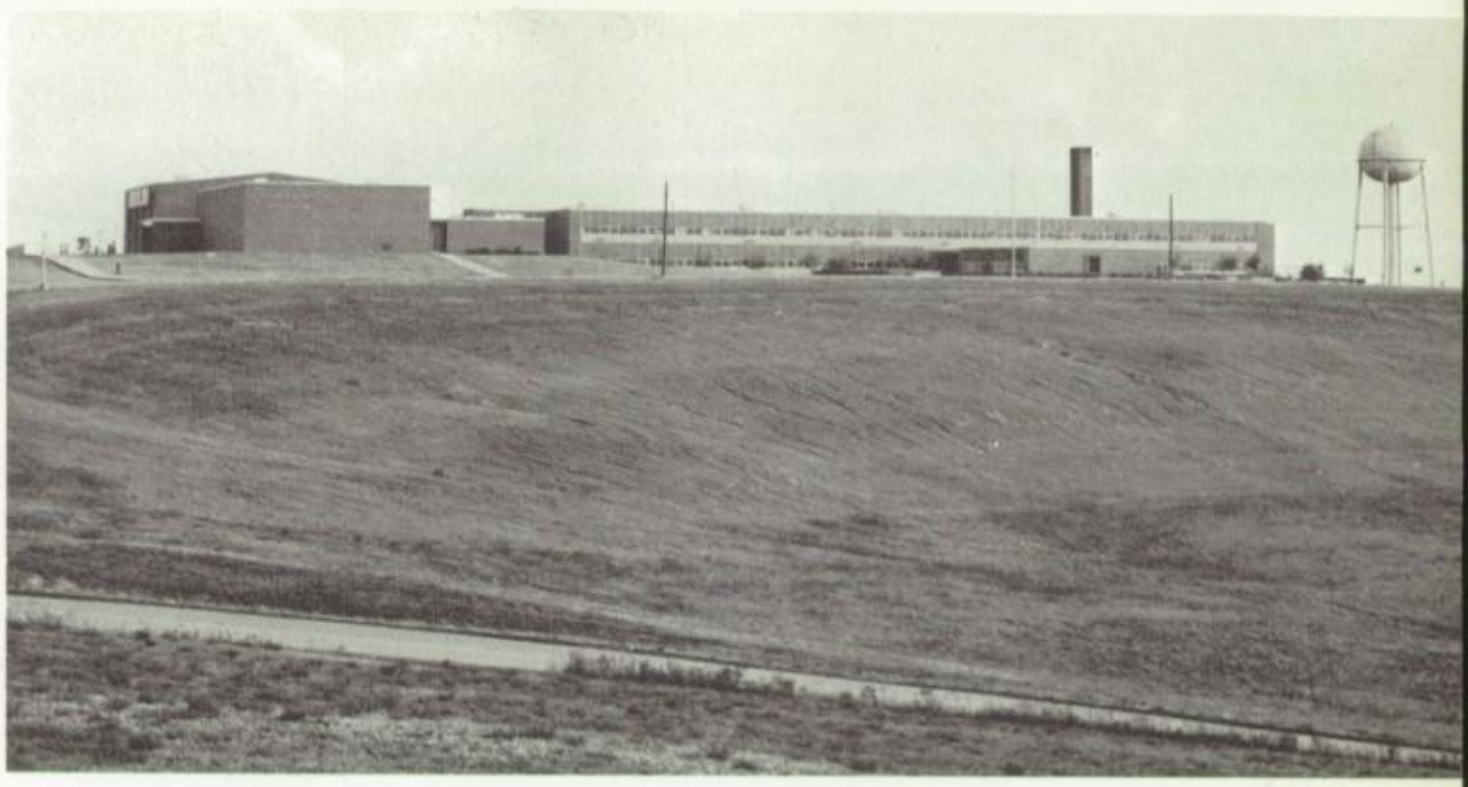
our Alma Mater . . .

Patriotism! " . . . for which it stands."

Spirit and entertainment go hand in hand.

Is there anything as sad as an idle "battlefield?"

"High on a hill"



. . . towering high

Our knowledge must blossom like buds of spring.

A touch of fantasy and a dash of enchantment

He goes to "great heights" to satisfy us.

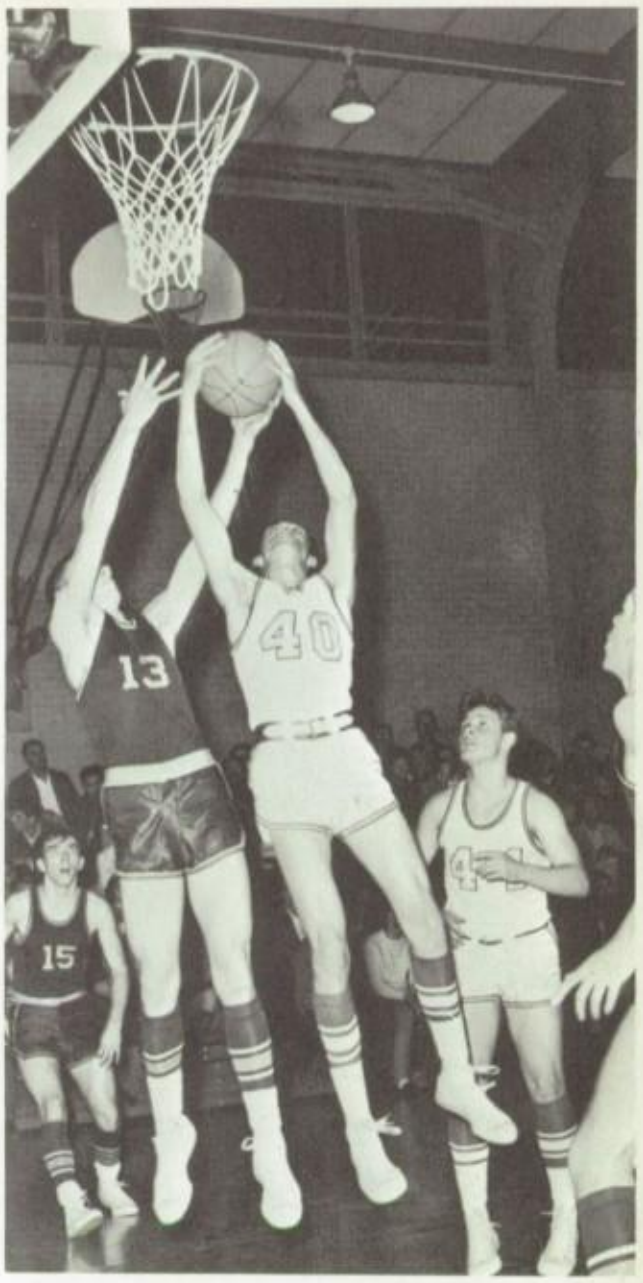
In our memory he will always have a place.

A time, a place, and a certain someone

Their achievements make up our memories.

Times of work and play to be remembered

In our hearts
your name we honor;
In our memory
you will stand.



In our hearts your deeds we honor.

Her future and our memories

A memorable decision

Related Agriculture gives practical experience for future vocations.

Wisdom is not only taught in the classroom.

Taught by self-expression

We give to you
our devotion . . .

Junior High Quiz encourages youth to develop mental power.

We are taught and help to teach others.

The book mobile offers knowledge through a greater range of reading material.

Students are taught citizenship by monitors.

. . . for truth and for wisdom taught.

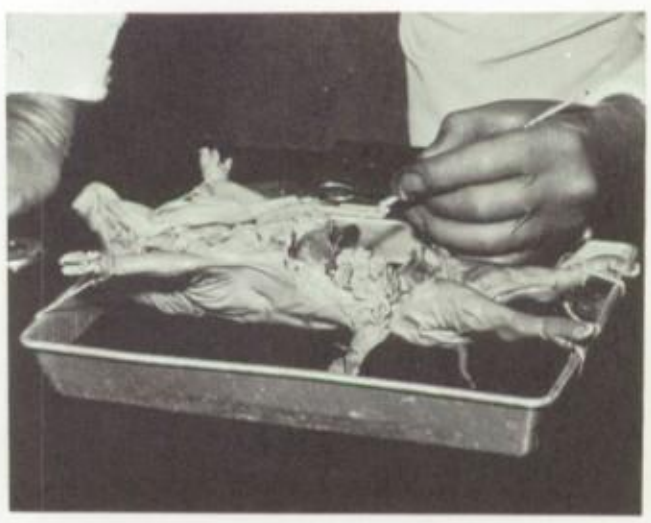
The administration coordinates our curriculum.



Knowledge gained through experience

Spirit to reach the top

High magazine salesmen lead the class.

Voices sing praise.

The band plays on.

And to thee Fort Cherry High School
we sing your praises high to the sky.

The crowd that roared.

Cheerleaders and majorettes express enthusiasm.

In our memory you will stand

D.A.R. Award

The senior class and sponsors selected Marcia Kay Bain as recipient of the Daughters of American Revolution Award this year. Four basic qualities were considered in the selection. Dependability, including truthfulness, loyalty, and punctuality is of utmost importance. Service including cooperation, courtesy, and consideration of others is the second quality. Important qualities of the third, Leadership, are personality, self-control, and the ability to assume responsibility. Patriotism is the final quality which is characterized by an unselfish interest in the home, school, community, and nation. Having received this award, Marcia will now participate in a state wide contest dealing with state and national government.

Planning to make nursing her career, Marcia will enter Presbyterian-University School of Nursing as a member of the class of 1968. She is the President of the Future Nurses this year. Her other school activities have included active participation in the Student Council, Reading Club, Science Club, Latin Club, G.A.A., and Band. Marcia is also an active worker in church and community projects.

Our congratulations and best wishes are extended to Marcia for her many achievements.

International Living

Elizabeth Rogers has taken part in an "Experiment in International Living." Since she is interested in traveling, Elizabeth acquired information about the program by writing to headquarters in Vermont.

Elizabeth received an application which she completed and returned. Holland is the country she selected to visit. Elizabeth received approval of her application and through the program will make the trip to Holland in June.

Such activities as working on the senior section of this yearbook, acting as treasurer of both the Reading Club and G.A.A., and participating as a member of the Science Club, French Club, and National Honor Society keep Elizabeth busy.

Upon graduation Elizabeth plans to attend college in the state of Vermont.

"Goede reis, Liz!"

Prom

The Senior Class of 1965 held its Junior Prom at the Fort Cherry Hills Country Club. Usually this event is held in the high school gymnasium, therefore, the Club provided quite a contrast in surroundings and atmosphere.

The ballrooms were beautifully furnished, featuring small candles on each table. Those attending danced to the music of Doug Cahill's Orchestra. Everyone was pleased with all the delicious food which was served in both dining rooms and the downstairs dining area.

An enjoyable program of entertainment was presented in which some of the students participated. The 1964 Prom was, indeed, a memorable event.

A souvenir flower for every girl.

In an atmosphere of autumn leaves and twinkling lights, the Seniors of 1965 presented their Harvest Ball. The gymnasium was gaily decorated in traditional autumn colors, and the coronation throne was set in a scene of a large moon surrounded by shining stars.

Couples danced to a variety of music played by Eddie Warren and his Orchestra. As the crowd lined the pathway to the throne, the happy and excited King and Queen made their grand entrance.

Members of the Senior Class did all the work in decorating the gym, which met with the ready approval of all who attended.

Majorettes

The purpose of a majorette is to add color to the band, present enoyable performances at halftime shows, and represent the school. This year, the majorettes carried out these purposes to the fullest. They performed snappy routines to such songs as Give My Regards to Broadway, Hello Dolly, Skip to My Lou, Down By the Riverside, and numbers in the popular Twist Show.

In addition to a head majorette, this year a very capable drum majorette headed the band and blew all whistles to direct it.

At the last home game, the younger members of the corps presented the Seniors with lovely corsages. The Senior majorettes will, indeed, always remember the wonderful experiences they had while being majorettes at F.C. and will hold each and every memory dear.

The school newspaper, the Pinnacle, is put out by the members of the journalism class. This year an off-set type was used. To finance the paper, ads were collected from local businessmen and subscriptions were sold to students and faculty.

Ten members of the class attended a clinic held at Washington and Jefferson College in November for schools in Washington and Greene counties. It was sponsored by the Washington Observer and acquainted students with other school papers.

The eighteen senior members of the class make up the paper, and the McDonald Record Outlook prints it.

The Student Council of Fort Cherry High School is the organization which represents the student body in matters concerning the whole school.

Democratic in form, it is composed of representatives elected by each home room in the Senior High. These representatives bring before the entire Council the ideas, problems, and questions of the rooms which they represent.

The president of the Student Council, who must be a member of the senior class, is elected at large by the senior high students. By virtue of his election, he becomes president of the student body. Robert Veydt is president of the two organizations for the school year of 64–65. The Fort Cherry guidance counselors, Miss Kirk and Mr. Loughman, are sponsors of the Student Council.

The major project this year is paying approximately half of the cost of the score board which has been erected on the football field. It is hoped that the project will be completed within two years. Sponsoring the Monitors' Club, decorating the Christmas tree, paying for the National Honor Society pins, and sending the incoming president to the Student Council Workshop each summer are other projects carried on by the Council.

To finance these projects, members sell Christmas wrapping, and sponsor the amateur programs and the boxing glove basketball game.

To encourage students to excel in scholarship, in character, and in service to the school is the purpose of the National Honor Society. Membership is earned by students who maintain a B average or better and who are judged as superior in the areas of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Any member who drops below these requirements forfeits his membership in the Honor Society and may not be readmitted.

After a student has qualified scholastically for membership, his name is placed on a list with other eligible students. These names are presented to the faculty for consideration in the areas of leadership, both in curricular and extra-curricular activities, in service to the school through active participation in classes, clubs, and other school activities, in personal services performed for teachers, and in strength of character. Students who are rated low in these activities are not admitted to membership in the Honor Society.

If the probationary members chosen from tenth grade students maintain the high standards required, they will become active members in their junior and senior years. If a sophomore cannot be a member because of his failure to meet the standards required, he may become a member in his junior year if the required standards are met.

The Spanish Club was established for the students wishing to enrich their Spanish culture. The purpose of the club is to increase interest, thereby gaining more understanding of the Hispanic people. All students taking Spanish have the opportunity to become a Spanish listener, reader, speaker, writer, musician, singer, dancer, or actor.

The enthusiasm of the members for a broad scope of activities is evident in the club's progressive schedule. Each year a Spanish fiesta is presented at which native dishes, such as las posadas and tortillas are served and entertainment is provided, including flamenco dancers and Spanish plays. Movies depicting Spanish life, talks by foreign exchange students, and a field trip to see the Spanish dancer, Jose Greco, are other worthwhile accomplishments of this year.

The purpose of the Latin Club is to interest Latin students in the Latin language and the Roman way of life, and to show the relationship between life as lived by the Romans and life in our modern world.

Membership in the club is restricted to members of the Latin classes.

Events planned for the year include a trip to the Buhl Planetarium during the Latin Festival and a Roman banquet. To finance these projects Latin Club members sell stationery.

An active organization of Fort Cherry High School is the French Club, or "Le Club Francais," as the members know it. Meetings are held once a month with a membership of ninety students for the current year. The club is open to all French language students in grades 9 through 12. First year or advanced students qualify as well as pupils who have previously studied at least one year of French.

The purpose of the organization is to further the study of the French language and to promote an appreciation of the customs and cultures of France.

During the 1964–65 school year, the group plans to take a field trip of which the art exhibit at Carnegie Institute of Technology will be a highlight.

The spring Mardi Gras last year was so popular with members and guests that it is being planned as an annual event. This is a costume gala patterned after the famous one at New Orleans.

One of the most worthwhile efforts of the French Club is to raise funds for the foundation of foreign student exchange at Fort Cherry. The French Club is endeavoring to bring a truly continental air to our school.

The Fort Cherry F.T.A. Club is made up of all those students who are committed to further education whether or not they have decided upon teaching as a career. The club takes pride in being active both in school affairs at Fort Cherry and in the work of the executive council of Western Region P.F.T.A. These activities include: providing ushers during Open House; providing student teachers when regular teachers are absent from their classes for short periods; having an annual Student-Teacher Day when each member serves as a teacher for a full day, teaching classes either in Fort Cherry High School or in the elementary schools of the Fort Cherry School District; having a Teacher Appreciation Day when the club members serve tea and cookies in an effort to thank those faculty members who helped make their Student-Teacher Day a success; and, apart from these in-school activities, going on a field trip to a college or university thus providing educational as well as cultural enjoyment to the club members.

This year several F.T.A. members had the privilege of acting as ushers at Teachers Institute, which was held here at Fort Cherry High School.

The club also had the honor of being host to the Fall Western Regional Pennsylvania F.T.A. Conference held here in November. Highlighting the conference was a guest speaker from California State College. Club members felt the Conference was a great success as over 300 students from 5 counties attended.

Marcia Bain, President; Patty Pike, Vice President; Mrs. Carter, Sponsor; Janice Gordon, Secretary; Linda Cerezo, Treasurer.

The purpose of the Future Nurses Club is to bring together, in high school, young people interested in a career in nursing or health. The girls learn to explore various opportunities and requirements in these fields, in order to prepare them for the occupations in which they will be soon participating.

Any sophomore, junior, or senior girl who maintains an above average grade in all subjects, including the required courses for acceptance by a nursing school, may acquire membership in the club.

Touring hospitals and mental institutions, listening to talks given by student nurses, preparing favors for the Washington County Women's Home, and sponsoring the tuberculosis fund drive in school are various activities of the club. Many educational films dealing with medical careers are shown in order to familiarize the students with hospital life. Several of the members spend their free time assisting the school nurse and sponsor, Mrs. Carter, in the health suite.

The main purpose of the Senior Future Homemakers of America is to make home life more comfortable and enjoyable. The group also learns to understand and help each other in various activities.

To become a member, a girl must have had one year of senior homemaking.

Members learn to perform tasks in the fields of cooking and sewing, two valuable assets to the modern homemaker. To show what they have made, the members put on a style show for all other senior high girls.

A demonstration of a cranberry cheese cake, and baked alaska by Mrs. Florida, Christmas decorations by Mrs. Brown, a cookbook sale, and a field trip are among the club's activities.

Boys studying vocational agriculture are preparing for one of the most important industries today. When we realize that practically all we eat and most of the items we wear come from agriculture, it can readily be understood that this is one of our basic industries.

The boys learn through the agriculture classes and F.F.A. the most modern, scientific methods of farming. They are also taught how to develop leadership, responsibility, and the various other good citizenship qualities. Through their classroom work, these boys learn skills which are eventually put into practice in their "home supervised farming programs," under the direct supervision of the school. These programs are composed of such things as dairy cattle, poultry, swine, sheep, truck crops, field crops, small fruits, and other improvement projects. There are also comprehensive lists of "approved farm practices" for which the boys may receive credit on their home farms.

Cook, R. Smith, C. Jamison, S. LeMal.

The Tri-Hi-Y is a Christian organization made up of senior high girls.

The main purpose of the club is to help the students and faculty in any way possible. This purpose is achieved by performing many services throughout the school year. The principal service of the Tri-Hi-Y is the coat check that is carried out at all of the basketball games and dances. The Lost and Found Department performs another service by holding lost items until the owner claims them.

Every year the club participates in a nation wide project known as Bundle Day. During this project, students are urged to bring in clothing for needy families throughout the world.

Under the able leadership of the club sponsor, Miss Newman, the members are able to carry out their duties to their fullest capacity.

The purposes of the Girls' Athletic Association are—to promote recreation and girls' athletics at Fort Cherry; to create an enthusiasm for superior achievements in the field of physical education; to stimulate interest in girls' sports and athletic events; to be an example of good sportsmanship and leadership.

Membership in the GAA is open to all Senior High girls who can maintain a minimum average of B in physical education classes, and who wish to become members. Girls who join the GAA are known as "pledge" members until they reach an individual total of 50 points through participation in various activities during the year. Upon reaching this 50 point total, a girl becomes an established member and is awarded a GAA emblem.

The main "feature" event of the school year is the annual Volleyball Game between the woman faculty and deserving GAA members. This game is anxiously awaited by the GAA girls each year. The woman faculty? Ditto? This "closed" game (only girls may watch the champion faculty team perform) is a Spring event.

During the year, the GAA holds competition in basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, individual sports and softball if scheduling permits, some intramurals are sponsored in the spring for both Junior and Senior High School girls. These intramurals are primarily in softball.

Four Senior girls are selected each year to participate in the Annual Play Day sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association at California State College. Participants, from many schools in the area, engage in keen competition in basketball, volleyball, many individual sports and softball.

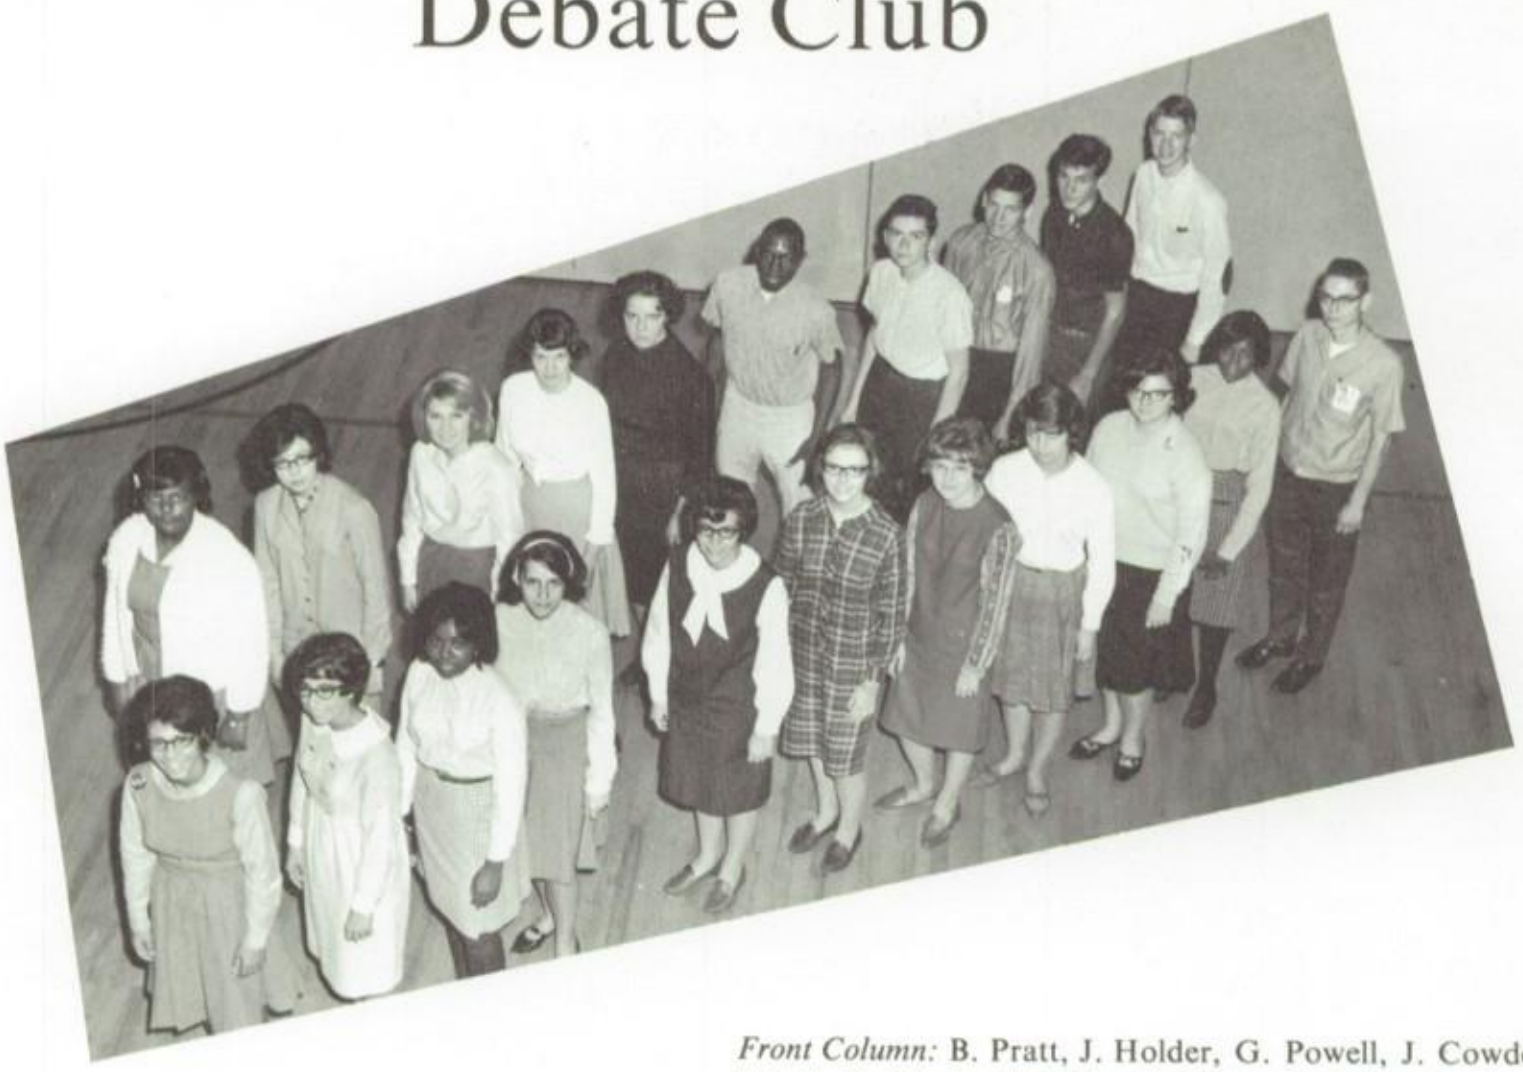
R. Reed, Treasurer; D. Aivalotis, President; J. Simpson, Vice President; Miss Cowden, Sponsor; W. Wauthier, Secretary; J. Thorns, Program Chairman.

The Thespian Club is made up of members of the Speech class. The class meets as a club on alternate Fridays. A primary project of the club is the study of parliamentary procedure and its practical application in all meetings. In class the Thespians participate in skits and pantomines, present impromptu and demonstration speeches, and prepare programs for presentation to student assemblies. A highlight of the year is the annual Christmas program. Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol and Old Saint Nick were features of this year's presentation. Club members also look forward to the annual field trip to Carnegie Tech to enjoy a Shakespearean play.

Debate Club



Front Column: B. Pratt, J. Holder, G. Powell, J. Cowden, C. Swartz, S. Ringle, S. Miller, S. Miller, S. Kelley, R. Ragland, J. Hebda. Back Column: R. Smith, S. Wirtz, M. Wussick, B. Johnston, J. Foflygen, C. Thornhill, A. Milsap, R. Svhila, L. Piazza, W. Johnen.

The goals of the Debate Club are many. It strives, first of all, to educate students for active and responsible participation in democratic government. An understanding of evidence and logic makes it possible for the student to guard against "bad" propaganda. The club also helps in developing an open mind, trains in straight and original thinking, and encourages sportsmanship. Finally, the debate club trains students to find and organize information and to speak attractively under pressure of time limitations and attack.

Anyone with at least a B average in English and a sincere interest to improve his speaking and reasoning ability can join this club. Because of the great amount of work required to prepare for a debate, the club met once a week after school from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m.

During the school year 1964-65 the Debate Club debated the proposition Resolved: That Nuclear Weapons Should Be Controlled by an International Organization. The club also engaged in such activities as poetry and prose reading, and extemporaneous speaking.

The group of students known as "Library Assistants" is not a club such as other clubs, since it is not organized, and does not engage in the same type of activities as other clubs. There are no field trips, social functions, etc. It is purely a service group, which renders very valuable assistance to the library and to the school, during both the regular monthly meetings and the periods in which individual students work. The school library offers to students many work-experience opportunities, and it extends a challenge to young people. In meeting this challenge the students in the Library Assistants Group broaden their own personal experiences, receive satisfactions inherent in service to fellow students and teachers, and help provide increased and improved library service to the school community. Student assistants are not trained librarians, and can not perform the professional services expected of librarians. Neither are they expected to take the place of trained clerical assistants. They are, however, valuable assistants, and ambassadors of good will for the library. As such, they play a very important role in the life of the school.

Fort Cherry's Reading Club encourages sophomore, junior, and senior students who enjoy reading to meet, discuss, and share with other members their reading experiences. From this, greater understanding of literature results.

A member must maintain a 2.5 average and be genuinely interested in the analysis of authors' works to be a member.

Of Human Bondage by W. Somerset Maugham is one of the three books that the club plans to discuss this year. Other activities include the Bookmobile, which placed over 1500 books in the students' hands; the close-away rack, which is a shelved selection that was taken from room to room during the 3A periods to allow the paperback books to be available continually to the students; the production and sale of a telephone book, which contained the telephone numbers of students in grades seven through twelve; and a field trip.

The club's true name is Bibliophile, which means admirer of books. However, the members also try to comprehend what they read and realize the values to be attained from thorough reading.

The Science Club is composed of high school students with a scientific interest that goes beyond the normal classroom. Many of the club members are planning careers in science and will probably attend college, a nursing school or a technical school. The club, therefore, attempts to provide many aspects of science to those interested that are not available to them in the classroom. The club also tries to encourage more students to pursue careers in science.

With the above goals in mind, the science club schedules activities that the members feel will be valuable to them and to other students. The following activities were accomplished during the 1964-1965 school year:

1. An assembly for grades 9-12 on Project Apollo—a simulated trip to the moon—by the Bell Telephone Company.
2. A field trip to local points of scientific interests by the club members.
3. Various science movies for club members.
4. A Science Fair for grades 7-12. The projects were judged in various categories and prizes were awarded.

The Business Club of Fort Cherry High School consists of students who are enrolled in the commercial course in the eleventh and twelfth grades. The main purpose of the club is to create a better understanding of available occupations and more interest in the business world. During the club periods movies, reports and skits are given in regard to actual office situations.

One of the events that the club members look forward to every year is the annual Business Club Field Trip to Pittsburth. Places visited in the past are: Robert Morris Junior College, Duff's Iron City Business College, Bell Telephone Company, The Pittsburgh Press, Remington Rand and Koppers Buildings. For a change of pace, the club has also visited the annual Spring Flower Show at the Phipps Conservatory.

To ease the ever present hall traffic problem and to make sure that students in the hall during classes have properly signed hall passes is the purpose of the Monitors Club, which is sponsored by the Student Council. The plan to accomplish these objectives was initiated by former Student Councils and is being carried out by the present Council.

Cheerleaders, majorettes, senior members of the football team, Student Council Members, and additional members chosen because of study hall schedules comprise the membership of the Monitors Club.

These members are stationed at the top and bottom of the stairs, on landings and in the hall leading to the cafeteria. Monitors checking hall passes are placed where a student must pass a monitor to reach his destination. If each club member carries out his responsibilities, the confusion in the halls will be reduced to a minimum.

The Monitors Club is considered a service club, and carrying out its purpose is its only activity.

A new club this year is the Related Agriculture Club sponsored by Mr. Carter.

The Related Agriculture Course is designed to familiarize students with occupations in agriculture as well as marketable skills required in other occupations. Boys studying related agriculture may join the club. Through the club, the members are encouraged to develop character, leadership, and citizenship qualities.

Classroom work includes occupational information, employment information, human relations, business organization and operation.

In shop, students develop skills, such as carpentry, welding, and electricity, which will help them decide what occupations or careers they wish to pursue. Through the club, members can practice what they learn in class, and use the time provided effectively by inviting guest speakers to speak on various occupations.

The Junior Class presented the "three-course" comedy, Come to Dinner, for their play this year.

Eleanor Blaine, the mother of a grown daughter, refuses to grow up herself. She is as giddy as a schoolgirl, as slaphappy as a groggy prize fighter, and as sensible as last year's hat.

Bill, her husband, has skyrocketed into the money as a Ketchup King, and Eleanor, with muddled social ambitions, becomes more scatterbrained than ever. Each summer she takes a vacation and each fall she brings home a new protégé for her daughter Roxana's social benefit. They have been varied—first it was a long-haired poet from Greenwich Village—an artist from Cape Cod and then an interior decorator. But when she gives a dinner party for her latest attachment (a fugitive from a summer theatre) it is just too much for Bill.

Eleanor continues to rule the roost until her social rival, Jennie Baldwin, throws a bombshell into her midst. Bill takes advantage of the situation to put his house in order and prevents his marriage from heading toward the divorce court.

The play presented by the Senior Class of 1965 was the three-act comedy, Onions in the Stew.

Betty MacDonald has talked her two attractive teen-age daughters and somewhat doubtful husband into sinking every cent they have in a home on an island in Puget Sound. On their first day, the tide comes in unexpectedly, finding half of their possessions on the beach. They catch a last glimpse of their washing machine bobbing out to sea. The two girls see their entire future—boyfriends and all—drift away like the washing machine.

Everything Betty does to make this venture a success backfires on her. Her daughters are at a painful stage—boy crazy, putting on lipstick to go gather driftwood, switching from hair curlers to hair straighteners, and always coming up with mysterious ailments to avoid homework—such as non-focusing eyes, or aching toenails.

Although Betty feels very badly at having brought a disaster on everyone, in the end they all find a special value in the life they are creating—a value they wouldn't trade for anything in the world.

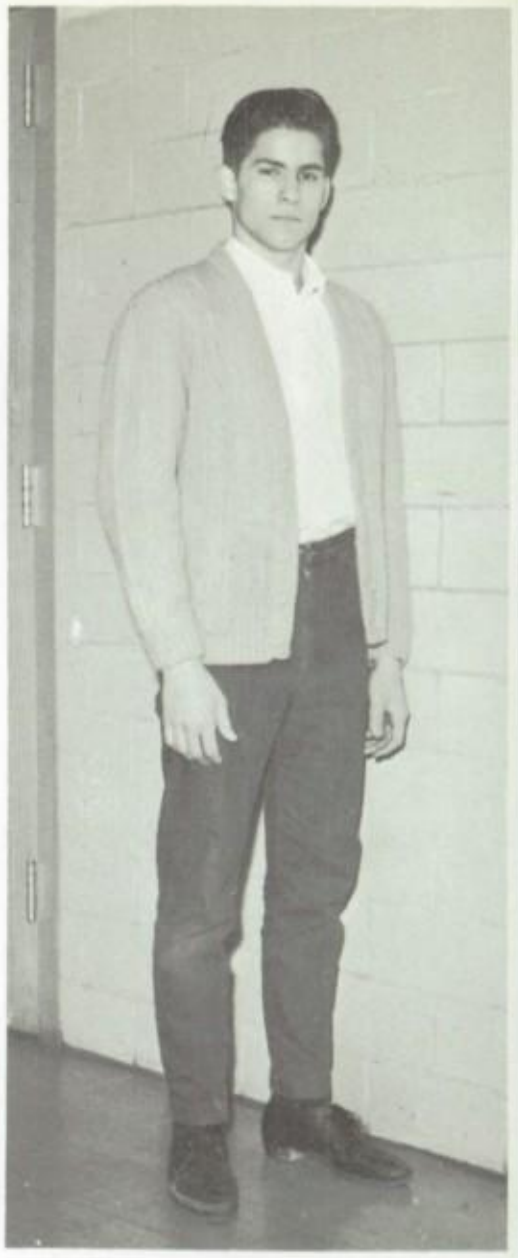
The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is used primarily to identify academically talented students. This group represents the upper two per cent of all students in the United States who are in the eleventh grade at the time of the test.

Alan DePaoli and Ralph Schwartz received Letters of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for their performance on the test. Information about the field of interest, college preference, and parents' employment are furnished to the NMSC, and many students receive consideration for special groups of scholarships. The names and scores of all commended students are automatically sent to their first- and second-choice colleges so that the colleges may consider them for special scholarships.

Alan plans to attend Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pennsylvania and Ralph plans to attend Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pennsylvania.



Ralph Schwartz

Larry Smitsky, Ralph Battista, Terry Robinson, Wayne Porter, and Mr. Lindley.

On January 10, 1965 a group of F.F.A. boys represented Fort Cherry for the first time at the State Farm Show. They were Larry Smitsky, Ralph Battista, Terry Robinson, Wayne Porter, Larry Carpenter, and Todd Schwab. The boys came in eleventh against competition of thirty-one teams.

Mr. Lindley, who accompanied them, remarked that "they did a real good job." They held a demonstration on stage which lasted from 18 to 20 minutes entitled "Out of the Red and Into the Blue." They then showed a live pony on stage and demonstrated the correct way to groom and show a pony. As Mr. Lindley explained, "The theme, or meaning, of the title was to illustrate to the audience that regardless of any endeavor, whether it be showing a pony or conducting a chemistry experiment, a person should strive for perfection or do his best and not be satisfied with second place."

The football team finished their season with five victories, three defeats, and one tie. This was the fifth winning season for the Rangers and Coach Garry since the jointure was started six years ago. The Rangers finished second in the Southwest Conference, winning five of six league games. A highlight of the season was the 10-6 victory over highly-favored Burgettstown.

Seniors Dave Brown, Bob Haley, and Bill Schottenheimer were picked for the Southwest Conference team. Bill Schottenheimer was also selected for the W.P.I.A.L. team.

This season began with the use of a new and modern electric scoreboard. The scoreboard was presented to Fort Cherry by the Class of 1964, the Student Council, and the Varsity Club.

Congratulations to the football team and coaches for another highly successful season.

Mr. Miller, Coach

The cross country team closed the season with a record of two wins and eleven defeats. Three injuries among the top six runners prevented the team from having a better season. Gary Allen, the best individual runner, received a medal for finishing sixth in the W.P.I.A.L. Class B Meet, while the team finished fourth out of seven. Gary also finished thirty-second in the Central Catholic Class B Invitational Meet which was held in October.

The Junior Varsity cross country team had an excellent season this year against the Junior Varsity teams with whom they competed. The team has high hopes for next year's season and is looking forward to going to the State Meet.

Under the guidance of our new head coach Mr. Sprowls and assistant coach Mr. Miller, Fort Cherry tied for first place in section 15-B with Peters Township. In the final outcome Fort Cherry was defeated in the play-off.

However, all was not lost for the season. Fort Cherry was able to compile a 9-3 record for the section and a 12-10 record for the year.

Congratulations to Coach Sprowls and his boys for an exciting season and a job well done.

Something new in the wind, which had its start at Fort Cherry in 1961, is gradually turning into a "gale." This increase in momentum is due to the strenuous efforts of our wrestling boys under the leadership of Mr. Lauff and Mr. Antoszeski. Sportsmanship has been outstanding and our five straight victories have added much to the thrill and excitement of the game. Our wrestlers have compiled one of our finest wrestling records this year. The popularity of wrestling at Fort Cherry has increased, proven by the crowds attending.

Best wishes to our wrestlers for an upcoming "tornado."

Cheerleaders

Fort Cherry's hardworking cheerleaders were back in fine fashion again this year. They adopted a new style of cheering which Sharyn Descutner and Charlene Cogniet learned at a cheerleading camp they attended during the summer. This technique consists of lowered voices and straighter, larger motions.

After much hard work, these industrious cheerleaders earned enough money to be able to make themselves new uniforms for basketball and wrestling season. They accomplished this through a bake sale, selling pompons, and by washing church windows.

Furthermore, they worked to keep up the spirit among the students with different pep assemblies and the clever signs on the bulletin boards. Nice work, Girls!

The Varsity Club is composed of boys from the senior high school. In order for a boy to become eligible for membership, he must earn a letter through participation in athletic contests with another school. The method of determining a letter winner varies with each individual sport. However, once a boy earns a letter in a major sport—football, basketball, or wrestling—he is eligible for a varsity jacket. If a boy participates in any minor sport, two letters must be earned in order that a jacket be awarded for that sport.

This year the Varsity Club sponsored a candy sale and had the Varsity-Faculty basketball game. The proceeds from these two events were then used to purchase the necessary jackets.

Outstanding

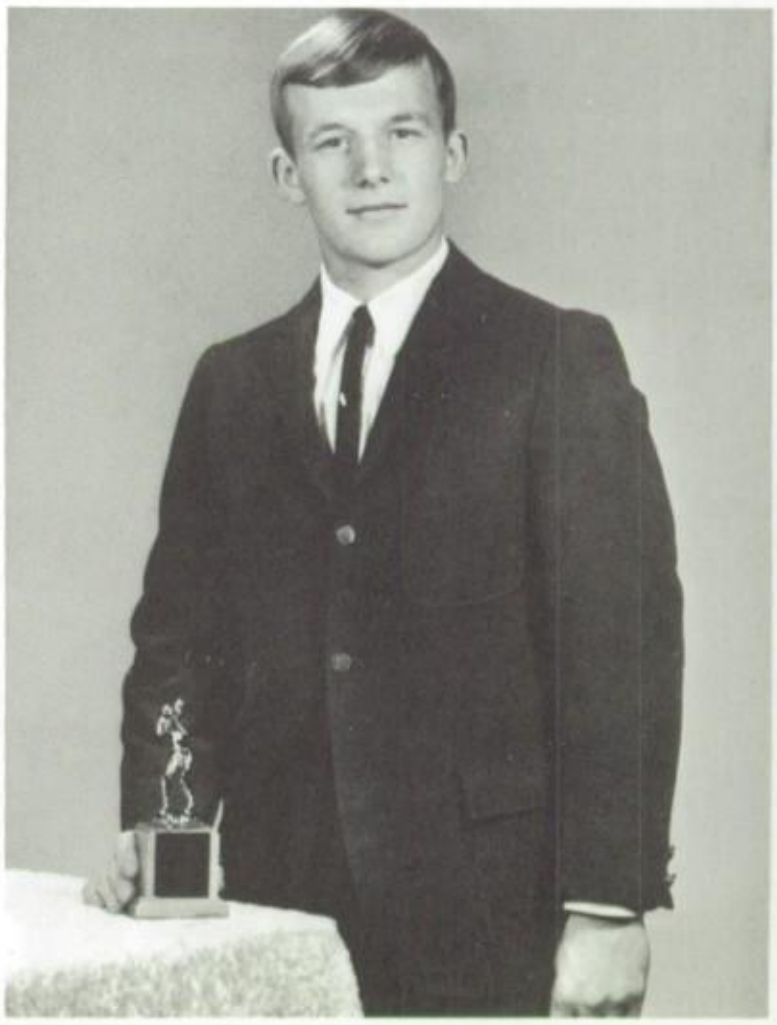
Robert Haley

Robert Haley was chosen as the sixth deserving Senior to receive the "Most Valuable Player" award for his participation in football. The football lettermen based their decision not only on his athletic ability, but also on his scholarship, leadership, and character.

In addition to his active role on the football team, Bob also contributed his athletic ability to the basketball and track teams and his efforts to the Varsity Club, Science Club, and the Thespians. He hopes to go on to college and continue his participation in football.

This year Willis Schottenheimer was selected by Fort Cherry's basketball lettermen to receive the "Most Valuable Player" award. Bill's athletic ability, scholarship, leadership and character were the contributing factors to the choice.

Besides playing basketball, "Shotty" also participated in football and golf. His other extra-curricular activities included the Science Club, Varsity Club, Spanish Club, the Thespians, and the yearbook staff.

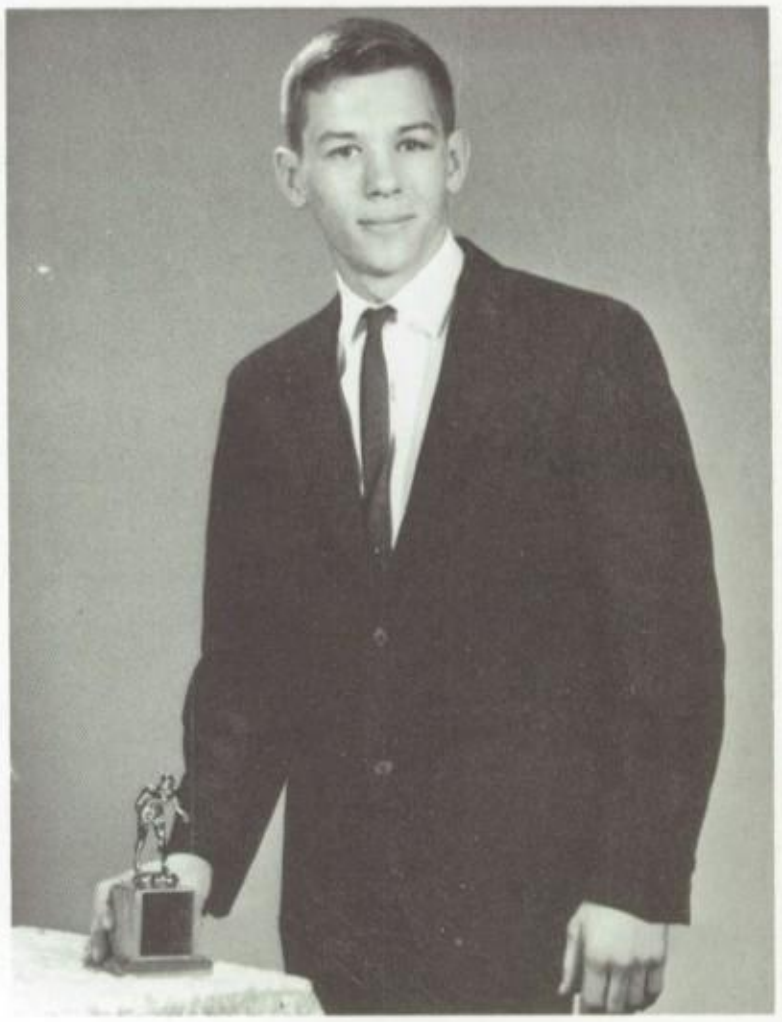


Willis Schottenheimer

Players

The 1964-65 wrestling lettermen have selected David Harrower to be the "Outstanding Wrestler." He is the third wrestler to receive this award. Wrestling ability, scholarship, leadership, and character were the attributes for which Dave was well qualified.

Dave has participated in many extracurricular activities besides his four years of wrestling. He has been an active member of the Varsity Club, Latin Club, Spanish Club, the Thespians, F.T.A., Science Club, and Band.



David Harrower

Alan DePaoli

Alan DePaoli was chosen as the recipient of the Dr. Charles M. Hughey Award. This was the second year for this award to be given. It was presented to Alan because of his athletic ability, his character, and his having the highest scholastic record of any Senior athlete.

Other activities in which Alan took part were vice-president of the Science Club, the Future Teachers of America, the French Club, National Honor Society, Band, the Midnighters, and the yearbook staff.

Administration

Mr. Jack N. Schwartz
Supervising Principal
California State College, B.S.
University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

No class has ever graduated from Fort Cherry High School more prepared than the Class of 1964. With changing conditions and new needs, our curriculums have become more flexible and organizations have been adapted to meet effectively the new demands of the electronic age.

Fort Cherry places character as the cornerstone of its citizenship and strives to play its full part in providing for every schoolroom a competent and interested teacher who strives to mold a student to be cultured, well informed, and prepared for the next step in his life's goal of leaving to posterity his community better than he found it.

Let us hope as you climb the ladder of success that your convictions as to the necessity of maintaining the American way of life may become as steadfast as Lincoln's devotion to serving the Union.

We of the faculty and administration hope for your success in your new endeavors and congratulate you on your contributions to Fort Cherry High School.

Seventh graders take pride in their projects.

Making use of both new and traditional methods of instruction, the Social Studies Department aims to develop democratic attitudes and convictions in the students of Fort Cherry High School. The use of the overhead projector, film-strips, films, charts and other visual aids helps to make learning easier. Panel discussions, group study and reporting, even an occasional debate help to enliven and enrich the classes.

Our ultimate goal is to develop good citizens. By studying and appreciating our cultural heritage, the students will gain an understanding of the causes of our present-day problems and be able to work toward solutions of them, for we know most of these problems have their roots in the past.

Mathematics

Will the real teacher please stand up?

The Mathematics Department instituted a completely new accelerated program for grade twelve to accommodate Fort Cherry's first seniors to complete a five year academic mathematics course. Programmed materials by Temac were used to enrich a basic course in trigonometry, matrices, vectors, and the fundamental principles of the calculus.

Algebra II and Trigonometry were extended to a three-semester course for grade ten and the first semester of grade eleven.

Closer coordination between science and mathematics departments was accomplished through a thorough coverage of ratio and proportion in the ninth grade general mathematics classes as preparation for its intensified use in science courses.

To facilitate better home-school relations in mathematics education, an evening program of adult education in modern mathematics was implemented. Its immediate success labeled it as a permanent part of the Fort Cherry mathematics program.

To speak, to read, and to comprehend another language; to understand the civilization of another country and to be familiar with and to appreciate its literature are our objectives in the language department.

We listen to recorded voices of native speakers and imitate them. We repeat, correct and repeat until the speech habits become firmly established. We read, then write the materials we have learned by ear. Later we read more extensive materials for direct comprehension.

The use of foreign films, music records, pictures, tape recordings, games, songs and club activities—all enliven the experiences of language learning.

We find the laboratory a valuable aid in working towards our goal.

General Business, Typing I

One of the main objectives of the Business Education Department is to develop student understanding of business skills and knowledge to the point where he may apply them intelligently to personal business affairs and in future employment. The following business subjects that are offered in our curriculum contain material which would be beneficial to all students in school regardless of future occupation: general business, business mathematics, typewriting, bookkeeping, consumer education, business law, and business English.

Those students who decide to follow a business career are also offered the following specific vocational subjects: advanced typewriting, shorthand, advanced bookkeeping, and office practice. During the second semester of the Senior year, business education students prepare for civil service examinations and apply for office positions with various firms in the greater Pittsburgh area.

This year the science courses are being offered a year earlier to enable one to take an extra year of science in an advanced course.

Although the changes mentioned are primarily for the college bound student, there will still be a set program for the general student. This program will permit a student to advance himself in the technical line.

In order to better round our program, Earth and Space Science is being offered to all ninth grade students and a nature study course to several seventh grade classes.

An important development in the teaching of English at Fort Cherry High School is the fact that English will be placed next year under the N.D.E.A. program along with science, foreign languages, and mathematics. The English Department anticipates that there will be expanded services available that will further enhance the effectiveness of its teaching.

The most effective single contribution to the department this year has been the attendance of five teachers at the English Institute held at California State College during the summer term. Three teachers are currently continuing their studies at colleges and universities.

Other improvements have been the demand for a second section of English Composition, the addition of numerous books for supplementary reading, the change to off-set print for the Pinnacle, the introduction of a standardized text for seventh grade reading, and gradual implementation of a program of studies in linguistics for all grades.

The Department of Health and Physical Education also includes Driver's Education and the various Health Services as provided by the School Nurse and School Physician.

Health classes cover many aspects of Health, instilling in each student the importance of achieving and maintaining the ultimate goal of good health. As defined by WHO (World Health Organization). "Health is that state of complete physical, social and mental well-being, and not merely the absence of disease." This is each individual's responsibility—no one else can attain the goal for him.

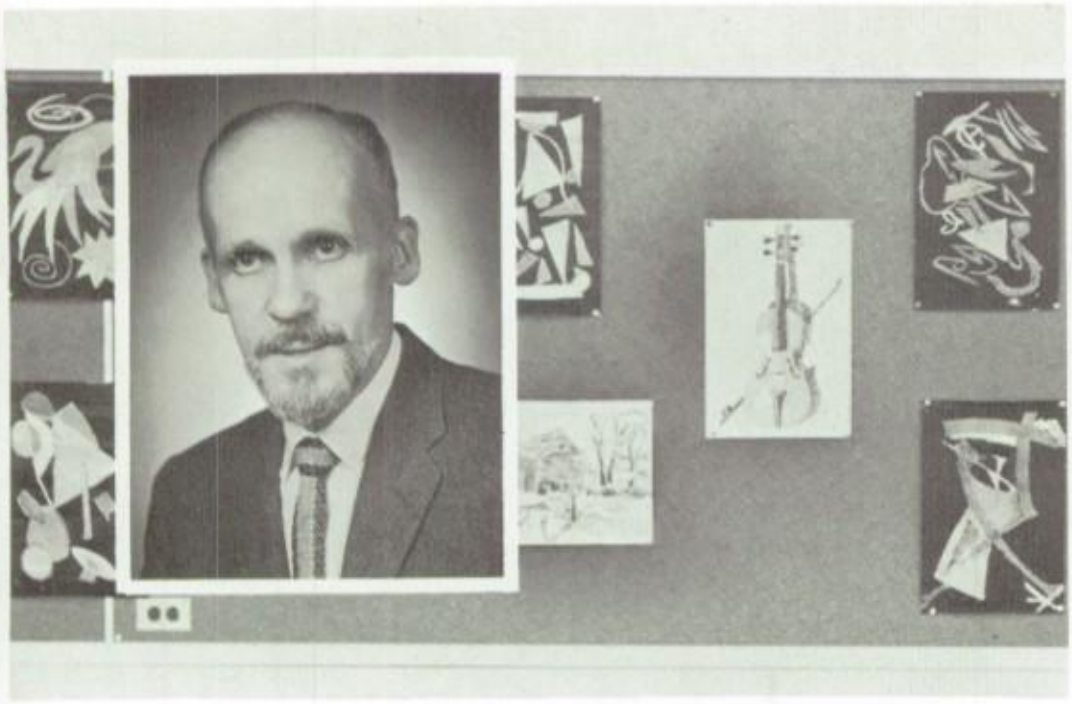
In Physical Education, the trampoline was again given a thorough workout, with new skills and stunts being learned. More tumbling was stressed in the girls classes, and, to the surprise of many, it wasn't as difficult to stand on their heads as they had thought.

Driver's Education classes were again scheduled for all Sophomores, with Juniors and Seniors taking their car classes.

Boys show team skills.

Individual skills are also encouraged.

Music and Art



The art program consists of those courses, activities, and units of instruction which are designed to contribute to the visual art and aesthetic needs of the pupils. Emphasis is placed upon meeting the art needs of the total school enrollment by helping all pupils explore their aptitudes and interests through experiences in creation and appreciation of art. This helps the pupil to better understand the cultural heritage of his race, and to recognize and appreciate beauty in the world around him.

They are well versed in their particular area of music and perform professionally in vocal and instrumental music.

Through the addition of these two teachers the Music Department has shown a marked improvement. The chorus and band are expected to grow gradually in numbers and quality.

Small vocal and instrumental groups have been formed to provide a further musical challenge for the more gifted and conscientious student.

Industrial Arts

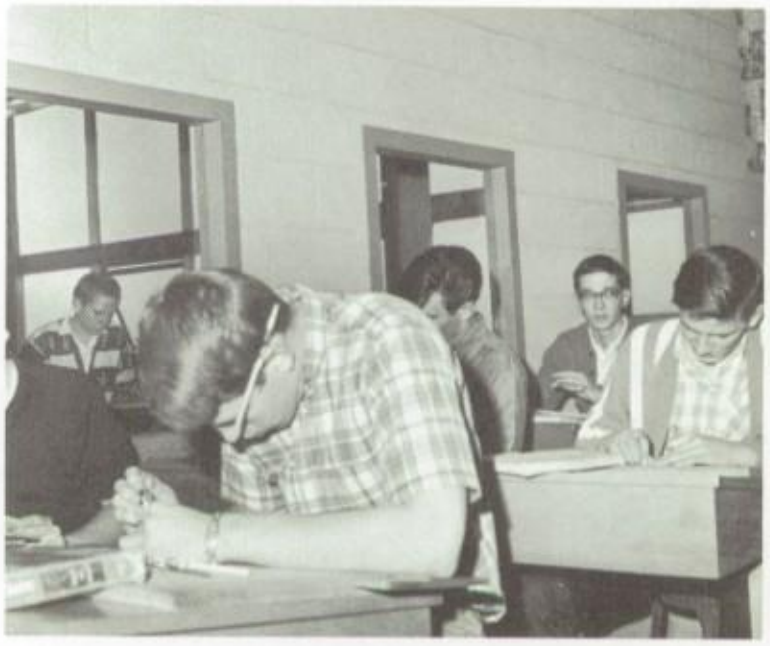
Making adjustments for improvement and expansion of the programs of study in the areas of vocational and practical arts has been a constant concern of our professional staff.

In order to provide students with training in more marketable skills, our school has developed a four year program in related agricultural occupations. Since this is the first of this kind of program anywhere, Mr. T. L. Carter is initiating many skills, training devices, and concepts never before used in public education. Every conceivable effort is being made to adapt this program to the needs of the students and the community served by our school.

Vertical development of the program of study in industrial arts is constantly being studied to provide students with more worthwhile skills and appreciations to better serve their needs.

Let's cut that wood a little straighter.



Is this Mechanical Drawing or Art Class?

Special

One division of the faculty is known as Special Services. These services include the Special Education department, the Home and School Visitor, the Librarian, the Guidance department, and Driver Training.

The instructor in Special Education works with students whose rate of learning is slower than that of their classmates. These students are given individual attention and are allowed to progress at their own rate.

The Home and School Visitor checks on reasons for students being absent, often calls the home for added information, and when necessary, visits the home. He often finds conditions and problems which might otherwise be unknown to the school.

The Librarian is in charge of the more than 7000 books which the library contains. She purchases the books added each year and gets them ready for the shelves. She also finds time to help both faculty members and students with their library problems.

To help each student to reach a state of mature self guidance is the purpose of the Guidance department. This purpose is achieved, in part at least, by providing occupational, educational, and financial information and by administering a testing program, the results of which are used for counseling purposes. Keeping a cumulative record folder for each student and overseeing making out of schedules are other functions of the Guidance department.

Driver Education is one of the most practical courses offered at Fort Cherry. It is divided into two parts, familiarly known as "Car" and "Class." A student who has his license takes both theory and practice, or "Class" and "Car." We believe Driver Education makes a real contribution to the safety of Fort Cherry students.

FAREWELL TO THEE . . . . . .

Yes, we, the Senior class of 1965, bid farewell to thee—our Alma Mater. In our hearts your name we have honored for six wonderful years. If we were to look back on them now, what would we see? We'd see six years of successes and failures, disappointments and achievements, joy and sorrows—but all experiences which we will never be able to relive.

The doors of the future loom ahead of us. There are many different doors from which to choose, but no matter which one we walk out of, we will be walking out of childhood into adulthood. We will be young men and women faced with all the challenges and fears of the fast-moving world in which we live. Yet the years we are leaving behind us will make the way a lot clearer.

We will go because we must finish the dreams and plans we began in our hearts, but we will never forget you. In our memory you will stand—forever. To be able to look back on a happy youth is half the secret of a happy life. But to have the power to carry these memories with us is to be oblivious of age and unhappiness.

We gave to you our devotion, but you gave us back knowledge, responsibility, humility, and opportunity. Many years and miles will come between the class of '65 and Fort Cherry High School, but neither distance nor time can fade the image of our Alma Mater. Wherever we go and whatever we do, we will always sing your praises high—to the sky.
